Disturbance

8/24/2018

Dispatch advised of approximately 20 people fighting in the 900 block of Hayes Ave. Upon arrival officers observed a large group of individuals yelling and screaming at each other in front of 908 Hayes Ave. As officers approached the group, most of the individuals began walking in different directions away from the scene. That was when a female later identified as Ariene Sutherland, continued to yell and use profane language in the presence of officers and bystanders. As the remainder of the involved subjects were calmed down, Ariene continued to use profane language in a loud manner. Res. Officer Dye and I walked towards her and advised her to stop yelling. Ariene continued her disorderly actions despite being warned by the officers. She was then placed in hand restraints and arrested for disorderly conduct.

Ariene advised that she was not involved in the fight and was just attempting to break it up. Officers stated that she was being arrested due to her loud yelling and use of profanity upon our arrival. I advised Ariene that she would be issued a summons and released on scene. I stated the charge was a minor misdemeanor disorderly conduct and she would have court on 8/24/2018 at 0900 hours. Ariene understood and left the area after she signed and received her copy of the summons.

After going in service from the first call of a disturbance I circled around to check all of Center Street for further individuals. I was approaching Hayes Avenue when I observed approximately 15 people back outside, and they were heard to be yelling and cursing.

I then observed two females start fighting and fall to the ground. They were later identified as Tatyana Kincade and Jamara Brown. When I exited the cruiser I ordered them to stop, and I heard people yelling that one girl was only defending herself. Due to this I attempted to separate them with Jamara rolling off of Tatyana at which time Tatyana rolled over on her side and kicked me in the right thigh. A short burst of OC spray was administered with it taking an immediate effect. Jamara had separated herself from the fight and was going on a porch. An OSP officer had arrived on scene and I requested he take her into custody. He was on the porch with her when Jamara began resisting her arrest. She left the porch at which time Ofc. Rospert arrived on scene and used reasonable force to take her into custody. Numerous people were in the area and approaching officers so additional units were requested. Tatyana was also taken into custody without further incident. She was advised that she was being charged with Disorderly conduct, resisting arrest, and assault for kicking me. At that time she was noted to have an odor of intoxicants about her person and slurred speech. Later at the emergency room she would admit to using alcohol, so she was additionally charged with Consuming Under 21.

Tatyana was complaining that she could not breathe, and I explained that this was the OC spray. She continued to complain so I attempted to learn if she had any previous medical conditions which might be getting aggravated by the OC spray. Tatyana would not answer my questions so I asked if she needed to go to the emergency room which she indicated that she needed to. I transported her there where they attempted to treat her, but she was cursing at them and refusing to comply with their request. While in the emergency room I read her the OC administrative form. She was then discharged from the emergency room, and transported to the county jail. It was also learned that she had several active bench warrants on file for her through this department and Perkins PD, and she was served them.
